After a successful Printmaking Taster workshop attended by 16 keen participants, the Tumut Art Society is pleased to support the development of a regular printmaking group!

Participants will learn the processes of relief printing during 2017. Participants will have an opportunity to develop carving skills on lino, vinyl & wood and use these in combination with homemade foam stamps. Participants will print by hand and using barrons and a portable press.

Participants will provide their own equipment. About half can be sourced around home, consumables such as ink, lino, and paper will need to be purchased periodically, and a few bits of kit will be once off purchases. Suggestions for reliable and economic suppliers will be provided.
